1. App requests access to school data
New apps can only request the exact data they need. We call these 'permissions' and the school is always in control of them.

2. School is notified of App request
Wonde will let the school know an App is requesting access to specific data. The school logs in to the secure platform to view all pending requests.

3. School controls the request via Wonde
The school can review the data requested by an App. Once they are happy with the request, the school can approve, decline or revoke the request.

4. Integration is complete
The exact data flows through to the App safely and securely. The school is ready to access and enjoy their new App.

A school will always have total control over the data they share. Support is available through every step of the process.
